

Julie's Tarot Reading

Tarot card combination

Temperance & the Devil combination

What do they mean together?

Temperance

When this card appears in a reading it represents balance, moderation & self control. The Angel is pouring water between two cups symbolising a careful balance of the elements in your life.

This card reminds us to use our intuition & creativity to reach a place of harmony.

The Devil

The Devil suggests temptation & bondage in the material world. This card signifies indulgence or addiction to material pleasures instead of spiritual plane

The Devil card is a warning to be careful of what we attach ourselves to whether it is relationships, possessions or addictions.

Conclusion

This combination suggests opposing energies a struggle between spiritual & practical. Temperance encourages us to find balance & self control & The Devil warns against addiction & materialism. When these two cards are combined they indicate that you need to find a balance between the spiritual & material worlds at the same time they point to the challenges we may face in finding & maintaining such a balance.

When interpreting these cards together there are a few things you must consider; firstly the position of the cards in the reading; secondly the question being asked & lastly how these cards interact with one another.

In summary when the Temperance & the Devil card combination are interpreted correctly this combination can help us navigate our most important choices in life & lead us to greater spiritual insight & growth.

Hope you enjoyed this Tarot combination!! If there is a card combination you would like me to investigate, please drop me an email & I'll include it in my next blog.